

Adams Bodomo

Prof. Dr. Adams Bodomo is a Professor of African Studies at the University of Vienna, Austria, holding the Chair of African Linguistics and Literatures. Prof Bodomo is an interdisciplinary research scholar focusing on African and general linguistics, African language literatures, global diaspora studies, and Africa – China – Europe political, economic, and cultural relations. He is a native of Ghana, Africa, where he obtained a BA degree in Linguistics, French, and Swahili, and an MA degree in Linguistics at the University of Ghana, Legon, Accra, before moving to Norway where he obtained masters and doctoral degrees at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Trondheim, Norway. He has taught and lectured at many universities around the world including Stanford University in the US and the University of Hong Kong in China. He has published 14 books and about a 100 journal articles and book chapters. Besides being the Editor-in-Chief of Advances in Language and Literary Studies (ALLS), he also edits the Journal of West African Languages (JWAL). Apart from English, Prof Bodomo speaks or understands several other languages including Dagaare (his native language), Twi, Swahili, French, Norwegian, German, and Chinese.