Women Leaders Southeast Europe and Black Sea/South Caucasus

Online Training Programme for Strengthening Female Leadership in the Public Service

This programme is tailored to the needs of female public officials from Southeast Europe and Black Sea/South Caucasus holding or aspiring to leadership positions. It is designed to familiarise participants with the international framework in place to safeguard women's rights and gender equality, which is one of the UN Sustainable Development Goals. In addition, participants take part in highly interactive workshops targeted at developing their practical skills as women leaders.

After an introduction to issues pertinent to the empowerment of women, specific topics related to female leadership within the public service are discussed in light of global trends and developments. Particular emphasis is placed on good governance, international climate action, and the domain of global health.
